The National Union Convention, now assembled in the city of Philadelphia, composed of delegates from every State and Territory in the Union, assembled by the solemn summons which for the last five years it has pleased the Supreme Ruler of the Universe to give the American people, profoundly grateful for the return of peace, desirous as are a large majority of their fellow countrymen, in all sincerity, to forget and to forgive the past, revering the constitution as it comes to us from our ancestors, regarding the Union, in its restoration, as more sacred than ever, looking with anxiety into the future as of instant importance, hereby issues and proclaims the following declaration of principles and purposes, on which they have with perfect unanimity agreed:

On 10/15/68, and we tender to him in the discharge of his legal and reasonable duties our profound respect, and the assurance of our spiritual and financial support.

3. Resolved, That for the purposes above set forth, we will cordially co-operate in public meetings, conventions and at the polls, with all men, without reference to past party positions, who honestly and by their professions, support the President in his policy of restoration as now developed.

How is it, we would most respectfully ask, that in hunting up signers to this call for a Soldiers' Re Union in McConnelleville, that the bearer went round, passed by, could not see, nor could not hear of other Colonels, Majors, Captains, Lieutenants, Sergeant, or even privates we know of, and enlist them?

every legislative or deliberative assembly is always held responsible for the measures adopted. If the measure is bad, the majority must answer to their constituents; if, on the other hand, the measure is a good one, they receive all the credit. If a bad measure is introduced the party having the majority should prevent its becoming a law. We do not hold the Rump Congress responsible for everything that went into it. We only hold them answerable for what came out of it. We cannot sue upon what principles of right the minority (and it a very small one at that) can be held answerable before the people for an obnoxious measure like that of taking extra tax contrary to con-

An old darkey by the name of Randolph, from Louisiana, made a raring, tearing speech in favor of negro suffrage. He called upon the white brethren, "to come up and face de moosick;" let de quinequences be what de mought, he spektes to dem as de man who was backed up by tree or fofre millions of udder colred pussens, and dey axed for de rite to vote, at de lection, and dey must hab it, and if de white feller did not rub it to 'em, ax

The Jacobins are talking of sending Wendell Phillips to Congress from Massachusetts in place of Mr. Rice. There would be in his going a peculiar fitness. Mr. Phillips boasted in Cincinnati during the war that he had spent nineteen years in taking nineteen States out of the Union, and who better than he is therefore qualified to fight for keeping out two States that are in the Union?

tion of the races, of disgusting misrepresentation, of the social equality of the negro, with the white, is now rampant in the Radio-Action. The old Abolition disguise of it is no longer affected. The American people are thus brought face to face with the horrid doctrine, which has the support of a powerful organization.
